

The use of a DSA server accessible via Internet (in the following named as SERVER) is subject to the terms of use the USER accepts with the online registration.

1. The access authorisation is restricted to the person it is granted to. The USER is personally responsible for observing these terms of use.
2. The USER commits to keep all information given to him (e.g. IP addresses, port numbers, passwords etc.) and utilities (e.g. key files, chip cards) a secret and to store them safely in such a way that no other person can obtain access to the SERVER.
3. The USER commits to immediately giving notice to DSA when he suspects or knows that another person came into possession of the necessary information or utilities to obtain illegal access to the SERVER.
4. The access authorisation expires when the USER is changing the employer. The USER commits to giving notice to DSA when he is leaving the company he worked for at time of application.
5. The USER commits to running antivirus software on all devices he uses to access the SERVER and to keeping it up-to-date at any time.
6. The USER is strictly forbidden to store other files on the SERVER than those necessary for the project mentioned in the application.
7. The USER is strictly forbidden to search through other directories on the SERVER and to download other files or data from the SERVER than those necessary for the project mentioned in the application.
8. The USER is strictly forbidden to change or delete files or data on the SERVER which has not been created or stored by himself.
9. All technical data and agreements as well as all data and files DSA provides for the USER on the SERVER are subject to secrecy and may not be given to third parties without written approval of DSA.
10. The USER hereby is advised to and agrees with the fact that loggings of his actions on the SERVER will be generated, stored and evaluated in regular intervals in order to check the compliance with these terms of use and to protect the SERVER from illegal access.
11. DSA gives no guarantee or warranty of any sort for providing access and under no circumstances will make amends for losses occurring to the USER as a result from usage or non-availability the SERVER.

12. DSA reserves the right to revoke or interrupt the access permission at any time without stating reasons. In particular this takes place when the USER offends against the terms of use listed here.
13. DSA reserves the right to make request amends from the USER to cover the costs of damages which result from non-compliance with the aforementioned terms of use, including the costs for corrective actions.
14. If one of the aforementioned terms is considered ineffective by court order or agreement, all other terms listed here shall not be affected and still be effective.
